

Lee R. Lambert, has established the standard against which educators and practitioners in the field of Project Management are measured. In 1981 he was invited to join the team that created the Project Management Institute's (PMI) Project Management Professional (PMP) Certification Program. He is a Past President Central Ohio PMI. Lee authored two books and more than 30 professional article/whitepapers. He is also PMI SME for the EVMS Practice Guide and the Project Estimating Practice Guide. Educated in Engineering Design at Utah Technical College. He is a holder of a Master's Certificate in Project Management from George Washington University. As the creator of the "Stealth Learning" concept, no other educator/speaker can contend with his uncanny technical knowledge, unique material content and refreshingly entertaining delivery. Lee takes the saying; "Been there, done that, got the T-shirt" to the next level as he continues to "make a difference" in his chosen field.
